THIRD RACE

Between Reliance and The Shamrock Today.

At 4 p. m. It Was Said It Would Be No Race

At 2 O'clock She Was Six Minutes Ahead of the Challenger--Scotchmen Don't Like Lipton--Another Cup Series Proposed--Details of Thursday's Race.

Highlands, Aug. 27—4:10 p. m.—(Special Advocate Bulletin)—The boats are now two miles from the finish and can not, it now appears, finish the race in the time limit. Reliance is leading.

Highlands, N. J., Aug. 27—The wind is due east and almost flat. There is a rolling sea.

8:57 a. m.—Reliance takes tow of Tug Guiding Star and starts for Sandy Hook light vessel.

8:52 a. m.—The wind is now two knots and is due east.

9:06 a. m.—The challenger takes a tow line from the Cruiser and makes ready to proceed for starting line. Wind about 1 1/2 knots an hour and it is raining.

9:37 a. m.—Reliance half way to lightship in tow. Still dead flat off shore.

9:38 a. m.—Regatta committee boat Navigator and the Guide vessel Coastwise and Mark boat John S. Scully passing Sandy Hook, bound for starting line.

10:17 a. m.—Committee boat Navigator reached lightship.

10:21 a. m.—Both yachts reached lightship. Shamrock being the first to drop tow. Wind about three knots east at lightship.

10:28 a. m.—Committee boat hoists code flag "H" indicating a race of 15 miles to windward and return.

10:35 a. m.—The course today will be southeast. The code flags "A. R. D." indicating this course, have been hoisted.

10:45 a. m.—Preparatory gun fired. 11 a. m.—Starting gun fired. The yachts were to leeward of the line when the first gun was fired. Reliance broke out her baby jib topsail and the scrap for weather position was on.

Bath yachts handicapped. Reliance crossed 11:02:45; Shamrock crossed at 11:03:47.

11:02 a. m.—Both yachts fetch by the other side of the lightship, and had to come about again to make the start.

11:28 a. m.—Reliance tacked to port.

11:47 a. m.—Reliance still gaining and is a minute and three quarters in the lead.

11:55 a. m.—Wind about 6 knots with yachts still on port tack and Reliance holding her lead.

12:03 a. m.—Reliance is leading the challenger by about three minutes.

12:50 p. m.—Yachts are on starboard tack and Reliance is making further gain to windward. The yachts are now about four miles from the outermark.

1:00 p. m.—Reliance is four minutes ahead the wind eight knots.

On board the steamer Boulker, Sandy Hook, N. J., Aug. 27—Official start: Reliance 11:02; Shamrock 11:02. Both crossed after the handicap gun with Reliance actually one minute ahead of the Shamrock.

The wind has increased to seven knots and the yachts can probably finish in the time limit.

2:00 p. m.—Shamrock was about six minutes behind at the turn.

4:10 p. m.—The race will not be finished in time limit. The boats are over two miles from the finish now.

SCOTCHMEN ARE MAD.

Glasgow, Aug. 27—The scotch press is exceedingly ill-natured over the failure of Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock. The Scotch in this morning's issue says: "Away with the incorrigible, boasting Lipton, whose sole qualification is that he can foot the bill. A responsible yacht club should take the matter in hand."

A NEW MOVEMENT.

Glasgow, Aug. 27—A movement is afoot in case Shamrock III fails to win to have Clyde yatchmen secure an international cup and invite the Americans to compete on this side of the Atlantic. It is designed to have the conditions the same as those which govern the American cup.

TODAY'S RACE.

Highlands, off Navesink, N. J., Aug. 27—Sir Thomas Lipton's cup hunter, Shamrock III, with two defeats already registered against her, went out today, to match her prowess against the American defender, Reliance, in a final attempt to lift the cup. With indomitable pluck of an Irishman who stares almost certain defeat in the face and smiles withal, Sir Thomas said this morning that there might be a surprise in store for the American boat as the challenger was showing improved form in every race.

"We will make a game fight for today's race," said Sir Thomas, "and with a light air contest in prospect I have strong hopes for a win."

The race today marks the third contest of the series for the America's cup and Reliance has two wins chalked to her credit.

The conditions of the series call for the best three in five races and everybody on the defender from the jib sheet man to the skipper are certain of a third victory today.

C. Oliver Iselin was seen this morning on the tender Sunbeam and said that he hoped to make it three straight wins. There were poor prospects for a race today. A "Portuguese" hurricane with a rolling sea filled with soft spots was what the lookout man on the French bark Marechal De Coutant reported at 8 o'clock this morning. The Coutant anchored off Sandy Hook light vessel yesterday because of her inability to face a southeaster which came booming over the sea and sent the deep sea fishermen scurrying to port. During the night the wind fell and this morning the Frenchman floundered in doldrums. The wind was "up and down the mast," and when there was a cupful it came from the east. Heavy laden clouds hung over the sea and an occasional drizzle made things even more dubious.

The only hope seemed to be in the fact that these are dog days and that as one of the vagaries of the canine season, a smart breeze might come before the day was over.

Sailmaking on the racers proceeded with its usual snap this morning despite the gloomy weather and water conditions.

The race today, which at 8 o'clock promised little more than a drift will be a turn to windward of 15 miles and a run home.

Mainsails on both yachts were hoisted at 8:30 o'clock and Shamrock III kited aloft her big club topsail. The Reliance brought on deck her largest jack yarder. A smart shower fell at this time and what little cupful of wind there was, was soon flattened out in the rain. Off shore the weather was thick with mist and rain and there seems little prospects of an improvement.

Reliance was the first to get away this morning for the starting line. At

Circus Train Wrecked.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 27—The third section of the Barnum & Bailey circus train composed almost entirely of sleeping cars for the performers was wrecked at Wildwood about 3:40 this morning and a horrible accident was narrowly averted. As this section of the train was passing on the northbound track, a freight train on the southbound track got beyond control of the crew, and came dashing down the grade. Just as the last of the sleepers was almost clear the runaway train jumped the track and one car crashed into the rear sleeper, sideswiping it and damaging the car badly. The car had about 40 people on board and they were roughly awakened from their sleep. Both tracks were blocked for a number of hours and the circus train went through, leaving the damaged car. The performers who were in the damaged car were furnished with another this morning and were sent on to join the circus.

STEAMER

In Collision at Sea Goes Down With Six Men—Captain Picked Up by the Whitney.

Stonington, Conn., Aug. 27—The steamer Maine of the Stonington Line, came in here this morning with one of the crew of the three masted schooner John W. Booth, which was in collision at 9:30 o'clock last night with the steamer Whitney, of the outside line, bound for Boston from New York. The schooner was sunk and five of the crew and one passenger were drowned. Captain George Thomas of the schooner, was picked up by the Whitney and taken to Boston. Carl A. Hessel, colored, was saved by the Maine and brought here.

MACHINES

Will Do the Book Reading for Us After a While Says This College Professor.

Chicago, Aug. 27—Summer girls and their temporary or permanent affluities will sit in hammocks while companionable talking machines deliver effusions of love from popular novels, when the prophecy of Prof. H. Marion of the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis is fulfilled.

Prof. Marion told a score of Chicago university professors and ambitious language students in Club Hall that it would not be long before printed books would be classed with "wall sweep" clocks and that libraries would be made up of talking machine disks.

Prof. Marion is an advocate with Professors Scripturists of Yale, Cusachs of Annapolis and DeSmichrast of Harvard of the advanced "talking machine" method of teaching the languages.

"In time," he declared, "these disks will take the place of text books. Paper backed novels will disappear and instead of reading printed books, the literateur will only have to put a disk in his talking machine and have the novel read to him in the living voice of its creator."

"Imagine what it would mean to us now could we hear Shakespeare's voice reading Hamlet to us, or could hear the voice of Hugo reciting chapters from Les Miserables."

Prof. Marion predicted it would not be long before "circulating libraries of records" would be established.

New Vagrancy Law

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 27—Under the drastic provisions of the new vagrancy law which as just gone into effect throughout the state M. F. Vaughn, son of a wealthy citizen of this place was arrested here Wednesday and held for trial.

The young man's father was quickly at the the barracks and declared that his son was not a vagrant and that as long as he desired he had a home and something to eat at home. The police department demanded bond for his appearance at the next term of the city court and it was given. Chief Norris declared that as he understands the law Vaughn is amenable to it, and that the case will be pushed. The chief declared that even though the young man has a home with his father, he is of age, able bodied and has a way of living that is harmful and unlawful. Vaughn's father is worth over $100,000.

THE TICKET

Nominated By Ohio Democrats at Columbus

Declaration of Principles in the Platform Adopted

Tom L. Johnson's Speech of Acceptance--Mr. Clarke Will Tour the State With Mayor Johnson--Wm. J. Bryan Is Coming to Ohio--The State Convention.

NEW POPE

Will Call Meeting of American Archbishops to Put America Under the Holy See.

Columbus, O., Aug. 27—It was late Wednesday afternoon before the Democratic State Convention finished its work. The completed ticket is here given:
Governor—Tom L. Johnson, of Cleveland.
Lieutenant Governor—Frank B. Niles, of Toledo.
Supreme Judge—E. J. Dempsey, Cincinnati.
Attorney General—Frank S. Monnett, Columbus.
State Treasurer—V. J. Dahl, Washington C. H.
State Auditor—Charles K. Kloebe, Wapakoneta.
Commissioner of Schools—J. P. Sechrist, Ottawa.
Member Board of Public Works—T. W. B. Jones, Ironton.

As exclusively wired the Advocate Wednesday the convention endorsed John H. Clarke of Cleveland, for Senator.

Mr. Clarke, who will canvass the state with Mayor Johnson and other Democratic committees, has been a prominent attorney at Youngstown for many years, but he is now located in Cleveland, which city has four prominent candidates, the Republican, as well as the Democratic candidates for senator and governor.

Next to the commanding presence of Johnson, was the part of Clarke in the convention. He made two masterly speeches, one presenting the name of Johnson and the other in accepting the senatorial nomination. Mr. Clarke intimated that he would ask Senator Hanna for joint debates during the campaign.

VOTE FOR SENATOR.

Columbus, Aug. 27—The first question that came before the convention on which there was a call of the counties was that pertaining to the endorsement of a candidate for United States Senator. The proposition to endorse a candidate for Senator was carried by a vote of 446 yeas to 211 nays.

The candidates for the Senatorial endorsement were then presented to the convention. They were John H. Clarke of Cleveland, John J. Lentz, of Columbus, and G. M. Saltzgeber of Van Wert. On the first ballot the vote stood: Clarke, 333, Lentz 209, Saltzgeber 118. There being no choice, a second ballot was called, which resulted as follows: Clarke 395, Lentz 205, Saltzgeber 81. Mr. Clarke's nomination was thereupon made unanimous.

JOHNSON'S SPEECH

Accepting the Nomination for Governor--Says the Party Must Stand for Living Principles.

In accepting the nomination for the governorship, Tom L. Johnson spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the convention: It is an honor that any man can be usually proud of to receive the nomination for the highest office in the gift of the state of Ohio and the hands of a Democratic convention, but to have it as a unanimous nomination—nomination by acclamation—is, if anything, a greater honor. I appreciate it from the bottom of my heart, and I hope that at the close of this campaign both those who favored and those who were opposed to the nomination will be able to say that we made the best battle; we fought the best fight that could be fought in the state of Ohio. (Loud and long continued applause.)

Political parties are made by the union of men on various subjects. The Democratic principle that comes down to us from the past is one by which we try measures day by day. We test the truth of a proposition by measuring it up to the rule of Democracy that we are proud of. But, my friends, in doing that, as new issues arise, as new questions have to be squared by that rule of Democracy, divisions necessarily are made. Men's minds differ. Parties are made up of men. Men in the past who have been in one party find with some new questions that some part of the party, some portion will slough off, and others will be added.

It is a very common thing to hear men denounce people who go away from a party because of a change in the issue, but that is perfectly honest and perfectly right. My friends, there are some men, but not all, a very small part of them, who are influenced by sordid motives. They are not all men who represent great corporate interests, or great privileged interests, or interests that are benefiting by the unjust system of taxation, that go away from us at times like this, but 90 per cent. of those men who leave the Democratic party, who complain of the issues as some men on this platform have complained that this is a socialistic movement, my friends, they can be perfectly sincere and honest in their difference, and we should respect their right to differ with us and leave us, if necessary. (Loud applause and cries of "Good.") But for the loss of men who are sordid we care nothing. For the loss of men whose motives are good and who are prompted by good motives, who believe really that we are wrong, we should have great respect.

But, my friends, as you lose some votes in this way, remember that elections are carried by the great independent, thinking people of the state of Ohio that come to you on those great live questions. (Renewed applause and cheers.)

I was surprised to hear today some men on this platform defend the action of eight men who we think deserted the Democratic party. I was surprised to hear that they had something to say about the effect of a "Red Devil" campaign. My friends, you may call it a Red Devil campaign, or call it what you like, but the campaign in Richland county against renegade Democrats will be carried on, so help me God, in the state of Ohio. (Loud and continued applause and cheers, the delegates rising to their feet, waving their hats, coats and canes and cheering vociferously.)

If we are to win—if we are to win the great battle, if great contests are to be won, it has to be won first, my friends, by getting rid of the dead timber that hangs around your neck (Great applause and cries of "You are right.") and taking on the living timber, my friends, that only wants to be collected into a party standing for some principle. (Great applause.)

I never asked anybody in my life to vote for me for any office or for any nomination, and I never will, but, my friends, I have asked some people not to vote for me, and I say today, men who do not believe in the platform read here today, men who do not think that that platform stands for the Democratic idea, I ask them not to

HER NAME

The Only Heritage Dying Mother Left
But it Brings Fortune to Pretty Tiona.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 27.—Like a fairy tale is the story of pretty Tiona King, a beautiful daughter of Bloomington, who, because she was the possessor of a unique name, the only heritage of her mother, who died in giving birth, was able to disclose the identity of her parents and enter into the possession of a fortune that had awaited a claimant for 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King, well-known residents of this city, adopted Tiona when she was a foundling in the Girls' Industrial Home. Her father disappeared before her birth, and her mother left no clue as to her identity when she died.

Recently a lady named Belle Craig noticed an item in the society columns of a local paper which stated that Miss Tiona King was entertaining a few friends from Chicago. Mrs. Craig was attracted by the name of Tiona, which was that of her girlhood chum. Its uniqueness decided her to investigate, and, finding that Miss King was a foundling, kept up an investigation which finally resulted in unearthing the facts concerning the parentage of the girl. In addition it developed that Miss Tiona was heiress to 27 acres of land in Kinnmundy, Ill., which tract was worth a very large sum, owing to its proximity to the city.

The legacy came from the grandfather of the deceased at Kinnmundy, and where Tiona's parents resided. The father of the girl is still missing but publication of this remarkable story may lead to his discovery if he is alive.

Miss King is considered one of the prettiest girls in Bloomington, and the discovery of her family and also her inheritance has been followed by hearty congratulations. Steps are now being taken to have the property transferred. Miss Tiano is devoted to her foster parents, who treated her as their own, and the recent interesting discoveries will make no change in her relations to Mr. and Mrs. King.

Dr. G. T. Howard, a former prisoner in the Ohio Penitentiary and now an inmate of the Detroit House of Correction passed this critique on M. R. Scott's "Essay on Truth."

"This essay is not dry and technical, but interesting, attractive and instructive. The central truth of the author's search the great inference he draws from the consideration of his subject, is clearly and logically set forth in the finest literary style. He recasts one thought for us in a masterly way for thought and theory herein must be recast with every cycle of change. He leads us past doubts and uncertainties into pleasant pictures, where our erst perplexed souls find comfort in the satisfying conclusion that truth and justice will continue forever, and that an overruling and ever abiding love preserves and beautifies all. One reader, at least has risen from the perusal of Mr. Scott's essay with this mental and physical benefit."

ON THE GREAT INLAND SEA ROUTE TO ALASKA.

Expedition of the United States Senate Committee to The Wonderful Northwest Territory—The Journey From Seattle to Southern Alaska.

(Following is the first of a series of articles from Will H. Brill, special commissioner of the Newspaper Enterprise association with the U. S. senate committee which is now investigating the legislative needs of that great northwest territory. The commission has spent the summer going from town to town and district to district, and Mr. Brill accompanied them everywhere.—Ed.)

British withdrew. It is an ideal point of defense for it commands the straits and its great hill, a thousand feet high, forms a bulwark of defense against British aggression and one of the most effective sites for a great fort in the world.

After leaving Victoria the steamer follows a course close to the Vancouver shore, the first place of particular Advocate correspondence by W. H. Brill, Newspaper Enterprise association's commissioner with the U. S. Senate committee in Alaska.

Ketchikan, Alaska, July 5.—It is little wonder that Juan de Fuca thought he had found the Strait of Anian when in 1592 he sailed into the straits which now bear his name and thence between the mainland and Vancouver Island until he reached the open sea. In the year 1500 a Portuguese navigator named Cortereal reported that he had sailed from Labrador to the Indian ocean through a great river which he named the Straits of Anian.

For nearly a hundred years navigators of all nations searched for this passage from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Not to be outdone by the discoverer, many sailors reported that they had found the straits, but it remained for Juan de Fuca to make a detailed report of the passage.

De Fuca reported that he entered from the westward, sailed for 20 days between high mountains, when he discovered a race of savages wearing the skins of beasts, and finally reached the Atlantic! Then he sailed back to the Pacific.

The search for this fabled river engaged all the great navigators from the time of Frobenius and Drake to the time of Vancouver. The latter discovered it. It was the Gulf of Georgia and Queen Charlotte sound which separate Vancouver island from the mainland. De Fuca's landmarks are all there, and at the end of the island stands the spire of rock which De Fuca saw guarding the entrance to the Atlantic. It is now believed that De Fuca sailed for 20 days through the great inland sea and on reaching the Pacific at Queen Charlotte sound believed that he had found the Atlantic.

Leaving Seattle at night the steamer runs out through the waters of Puget Sound and across the Strait of Juan de Fuca, arriving at Victoria in the early morning. After leaving the bustling little Canadian city the steamer swings into the Gulf of Georgia. Thence for three hundred miles it steams along the mainland at the right and Vancouver island on the left, protecting the glasslike waters of the gulf from the waves and winds of the Pacific. Vancouver island, named for the great explorer, is 300 miles in length and from 40 to 80 miles in width. It is a mountain range, a continuation of the Olympics of Washington.

Just to the east of the southern end of the island lies the island of San Juan which in the late '40s nearly caused a war between Great Britain and the United States. One nation garrisoned one end of the island while the other established a post on the opposite end for the convention of 1846 had left its possession in dispute. For a time things looked serious but the storm was averted and until 1871 American soldiers and British blue jackets lived amicably on the same island. Then it was decided that the island belonged to the United States and the interest being Active Pass, where the waters of the gulf flow between giant bluffs and the utmost care must be taken in navigation. The coast is dotted with lighthouses, but otherwise for miles there is no sign of habitation. The bluffs, tree covered, rise almost perpendicularly from the still green water, while behind them rise the great snow covered mountains, their summits 7000 or 8000 feet above the peaceful waters.

At Queen Charlotte sound the Kuro Siwo, or Japanese current, the gulf stream of the Pacific changes its course and by a great curve strikes squarely against the unprotected coast. This warm current greatly influences the climate of the whole of southeastern Alaska and the British Columbian coast and keeps the temperature much milder than would otherwise be the case, although its warm waters coming in contact with the cold currents of air blowing off the snow and ice-covered mountains are responsible for the frequent heavy fogs that at times make navigation difficult.

In Queen Charlotte and Fitzhugh sounds the first whales are seen. These great fish, known to fishermen as black whales, are of little value except as they are an added feature to the tourist's pleasure. They spout great columns of water in plain view from the steamer's decks, and then, throwing their heads high in the air, turn great somersaults, and with a flash of their great tails dive into the depths of the sound.

From here north to the Alaskan ports of call the steamers pass through long straits, great island seas bordered by mountains, thick laden with verdure and forests, and presenting the most magnificent scenery.

Sponges get scarcer, quality gets poorer and value creeps up. We select carefully and put prices on sponges that are as low as anybody can give. When you want a buggy, bath or any other kind of sponge, you will find a good selection here, and can know that whatever the price is it is the lowest to be had.

STINE STILL LIVES
Victim of Nichols' Pistol Has Been Conscious for Only a Moment at a Time--There is No Light as Yet On the Mysterious Shooting.

Ed Stine, the victim of Orrin Nichols' pistol, still lies at the city hospital, his constitution and hardy vitality making a gallant fight against the probable result of his wounds. The struggle goes on without the aid of the injured man's consciousness, and in spite of his delirious efforts to nullify the skill and attention of physicians and nurses.
The unfortunate boy is in almost continuous paroxysms of nervous agitation, during which he tears at the bandages on his head and murmurs incoherently of disconnected subjects. All night Wednesday the night nurse was assisted by two male members of the A. O. U. W., and it took their combined efforts to prevent the patient from leaping out of bed. At no time since he has been in the hospital has he been conscious, except for a few moments at a time, and he has never uttered a word intelligently, that would throw the slightest light on the motives that prompted Nichols to attempt his life.
The shooting of Stine has caused such widespread interest in the city that it has become a problem how to give all the information required by persons who telephone to the hospital concerning his condition. The first afternoon and evening he was there, the nurses were well night exhausted running to answer the telephones in addition to their duties with Stine, and the other patients. It became an impossibility to answer these calls, and they gave the central offices orders not to call the institution by phone.
Such a condition is brought about by the thoughtlessness of the public, in regard to the conditions at the hospital. The institution is making the most noble efforts to keep in existence, on a very precarious income, and only a force that is absolutely necessary is kept at the house. One person cannot be hired and kept there for the purpose of answering telephones, and in cases of great public interest such would have to be the case.

Nine out of every ten calls for the hospital since Stine has been there, have been made by persons who had no more than a curious interest in the unfortunate young man. To satisfy this they called the hospital. One of the two nurses had to drop what she was doing whether in the operating or sick room and go to the office to answer the telephone, as she could not know how important the call might be.
Usually it was some one who did not even know Stine, who wanted to know "How is that man that was shot?"
Other patients have relatives and friends who also wish to know as to every change in Stine's condition, until there is a definite status either of death or convalescence, and in the meantime the public should not impose upon the hospital by telephoning there unnecessarily.
Mrs. Kate Roe, one of the Board of Lady Managers, who Tuesday saw the condition of things, volunteered her services and remained at the hospital Wednesday and Thursday to answer calls and receive callers.
During the day she received and talked to over 150 callers, and has no idea as to the number of times she answered the telephone. Let the public be thoughtful in this matter, and remember that to answer the necessary calls from relatives and friends of patients, doctors and others having business with the hospital is in itself quite a task, and they will hesitate before calling up for information that will merely satisfy an idle and often times morbid curiosity.
ter sending up her headsails in stops and hoisting the mainsail, she dropped her moorings and took a tow from the tug Guiding Star for the Sandy Hook lightship.
Captain Wringe set his jack yarder over the mainsail and then signalled the tug Cruiser for a tow. On their way to the starting line the skippers found a sea filled with soft spots and from the east they picked up now and then a cupful of wind. The threatening condition of the weather together with the prospects of a drifting match, diminished the size of the excursion fleet today and there did not seem to be the same number of people on board as on the previous race days.
While in tow for the lightship and a mile to leeward of the starting line, Captain Barr sent aloft his big club topsail. It was then still flat off shore and there seemed little prospects of a race. The big black flag on the mainmast of the pilot boats lying in and about the light vessel hopped like wet dishrags, while off to the westward, the French bark Marechal wallowed in the sea without any attempt to make sail. The fishing fleet off Asbury Park did not even have steerage way and not a few of them made sternway in the tide.
The committee found the wind from the southeast, or reaching the lightship and set the course in that direction at 10:30 a. m. After passing the lightship, the racers dropped their tows and broke out headsails, and stood about the starting line awaiting the preparatory gun.
When working about the starting line, Captain Wringe broke out his baby jib-top-sail. Reliance carried hers in stops. The wind could not have been any more than four knots, judging by the speed the racers were making while passing about the line.
After the preparatory gun was fired Reliance stood to southward and tacked ship to starboard, standing toward the Long Island shore. Captain Wringe stood along on the starboard tack also and finding that the Reliance was working down on his weather quarter he luffed his boat into the wind. Captain Wringe, after luffing, came about and stood across Reliance's wake. The American quickly brought about to port and still held the weather of the challenger. While the wind was light for quick work it was a pretty battle for position. As the yachts stood along on the port tack, Captain

The Convention and Its Work.

The Democratic State Convention at Columbus this week was one of the most remarkable in the history of the party in Ohio. The people were there in numbers far greater than has been witnessed at any convention of either party for years.

Whatever differences there may have been among Democratic leaders and State politicians, it was plain to every one that the majority of the people in attendance was overwhelming in favor of Tom L. Johnson for Governor. Not only that, but they were in favor of whatever Johnson wanted in the way of equipping him for fighting the campaign this fall against Hanna, against the trusts, against special privileges for the corporations and against the present injustice in taxation.

Hence, whatever was done at the convention in the adoption of the platform, and in the nomination of the ticket from Johnson for Governor down through the entire list, was an overwhelming manifestation of the people's wishes. Whatever differences existed among politicians there was nothing for them to do but to gracefully accept the people's will. For this reason Johnson's nomination for Governor was made by acclamation by a unanimity and an enthusiastic demonstration rarely seen in any State convention in all these United States. Johnson stands for issues that will certainly awaken the people this fall. He promises to make a campaign against Hanna and unjust taxation such as the people have rarely witnessed in recent years.

Platform Adopted by The Democratic State Convention.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 27.—Following is the platform adopted by the Ohio State Democratic convention:

"Assembled in convention at Columbus, preparatory of the state election of 1903, we, the Democrats of Ohio, reaffirming the declarations on national issues of our platform of 1902, adopted at Sandusky, hereby renew our allegiance to the Democratic party of the nation, and again avow our devotion to the principles of its last national platform. We accordingly condemn colonialism and imperialism, denounce trusts and trust-fostering tariffs, repudiate government by injunction, and oppose financial monopolies, together with every other legalized monopoly and special privilege. Adhering to these principles of the Kansas City platform, we repeat our condemnation of all efforts to renounce or ignore them.

"We nevertheless urge the people of Ohio, regardless of party, to consider the transcendent importance of state over national issues at the coming election. National policies are not at stake. Although one seat in the United States Senate depends upon the political complexion of our next legislature, no other national consideration does; and the Republican party is so largely in the majority in the United States Senate as to deprive that consideration of all practical importance. The vital question, therefore, which now confronts the voters of our state, Republicans as well as Democrats, is a local question. They are to determine whether the personal ambitions of one man for re-election to the Federal Senate, shall be gratified at the expense of placing the vast local interests of all the people of Ohio at the mercy of a state government nominated by and in alliance with the privileged corporations.

"Let the people of Ohio consider what is really involved in this election. Great corporations, possessing valuable and oppressive franchises and reaching out for more, have effected a union with the leaders of the Republican party in Ohio. So intimate has this union grown that it can no longer be determined where the legitimate politics of the Republican party leaves off and the corrupt politics of the privileged corporations begins. In consequence of that coalition of corporation magnates with Republican managers, in some instances identical in person, the people of all political parties have been systematically plundered and oppressed.

"Thus manipulated the Republican party has been treacherously led by its more recent managers farther and farther into the service of special interests inimical to the public welfare. It has been made to protect and foster monopolies. Its officials have burdened the farmers and small home owners of the state with excessive taxes in order to relieve public service corporations of their just obligations. It has enacted unconstitutional special laws. It has thrown the city and village governments of the state into confusion, thereby entailing large and useless expenditures of public money impairing municipal credit and imposing upon the state treasury the cost of a special session of the General Assembly. To remedy the evils thus caused the managers of the Republican party have forced the enactment of a cumbersome and centralizing municipal code for the government of our cities and villages, framing its provisions in defiance of the wishes of the cities concerned, in disregard of the expressed opinions of the State Bar Association and the state and municipal Chambers of Commerce, and with indifference to the plain lessons of experience in Ohio and elsewhere.

"By embodying in this code unwise and unjust provisions for the regulation of street railroads these Republican managers have rendered competition more difficult and street car monopolies more secure. By reserving to the state government the power to appoint municipal officers in certain cases they have dangerously concentrated the police power and have complicated their meager concessions of home rule with tempting opportunities for interference by the state government in the local affairs of cities and villages. A precedent has thus been set that would altogether nullify the principle of home rule.

"The corrupt union which the Republican managers of Ohio, treacherously alike to the rank and file of their own party and to the rest of the people, have made with privileged corporations, is further shown by the recent history of Ohio taxation. After repeated acknowledgments by the Republican party in its platform and other public declarations of the injustice of existing tax laws, the Republican legislature has rejected even the simplest remedies. The law by which telegraph, telephone and express companies are taxed, provides a simple method of arriving at the real value for taxation of steam railroad, street railroad and similar cases of franchise property. Yet the Republican legislature refused to apply that method to the property of those powerful corporations. It has retained the objectionable laws under which, with the aid of friendly State Equalizing Boards and local Auditors, steam railroads and street car companies have for years been able to shift for themselves to the small owners and farmers of the state two thirds of the burden of taxation, which in justice these corporations ought to bear.

"By way of pretended remedy for this flagrant abuse the Legislature has, at the dictation of Republican managers and their corporate allies, imposed an annual tax upon the capital stock of all corporations, including unprivileged business companies. While bringing a diminished revenue into the State treasury and proving a burdensome restriction upon legitimate business, this tax falls most heavily upon incorporations least able to bear it, and will practically exempt those that are enriched by valuable special privileges.

"Besides making such trifling and deceptive alterations in our tax laws in the name of remedial legislation, the Republican managers have been guilty of manifest duplicity. In deference to overwhelming public demands for tax reform they permitted the adoption by the Legislature of a resolution submitting to the people an amendment to the state constitution authorizing a fair classification of property for purposes of taxation. But supposing that now the popular feeling on the subject may have temporarily subsided, yet not daring to risk a popular vote on this amendment, they have prevented the Republican convention from approving it. The amendment is thereby deprived of the benefit of a place in the Republican column on the official ballot.

"In consequence of the alliance of privileged corporations and Republican managers in Ohio the recent history of the Republican party of this state in connection with taxation is a glaring and unvarying record of double dealing with the people, of favoritism toward railroad, street car and other public service corporations, of arbitrary interference with such local officials as have tried to remedy these open, bold and habitual—together with indications of kinds of bribery more profitable and potent, though less audacious. With such a record it is natural that the Republican leaders and their corporate allies and beneficiaries should endeavor to evade a campaign on state issues. Their bad record in state and municipal government is explanation enough of their challenge to a controversy upon national issues at a time when and in a state where no national principle or policy is at stake, either directly or indirectly.

"That the alliance of Republican leaders in Ohio with the privileged corporations has the aid of some Ohio Democrats we freely concede. But these Democrats are not in control of the Democratic party of the state; and that party as now organized is rebuking and disowning them as fast as it finds them out. An object lesson on this point was furnished at the special session of the Legislature. Eight Democratic legislators supported the corporation alliance by voting for the Cincinnati 'curative act.' For this treachery to their party and violation of their pledges to the people, every one of them has been relegated to private life by the Democratic party. While conceding that some Ohio Democrats are corruptly allied with the privileged corporations, we ask the people of the state to observe an important fact in that connection. In the Democratic party, as now organized, Democrats who serve such alliances are punished, whereas in the Republican party, as now controlled, Republicans who made such alliances are rewarded.

"We believe that the awakened voters of the Republican party in Ohio will no longer tolerate the betrayal of the public interests and their own confidence by their party managers are primarily devoted. Republicans by thousands have refused to do so in the city of Cleveland, where the Democratic party is now successfully leading the fight of the people against the privileged corporations and their confederates in both parties. But this is a state fight and must be waged in every part of the state. The Legislature must be recovered from the corporations and restored to its proper place as an agent of popular government.

"The fight for that object must be unfaltering and unrelenting. It must be not for one campaign only, but for all campaigns until the corporations are driven out of politics. The present campaign is especially opportune for this purpose. The absence from it of every reasonable ground for solicitude respecting national issues, enables the people to express themselves without hesitation or reservation in favor of home rule and just taxation and against the continued reight of privileged corporations in the State of Ohio.

"As a more specific statement of the principles and purposes of the Democratic party of Ohio on these and other questions we declare:

"1. All taxable property should be appraised by assessing boards, which should be in session for at least a part of each year. Their proceedings and deliberations should be open to the public; and power should be given for the employment of a representative of the public interests at hearings before them. In making assessments all property should be appraised at its salable value.

"2. The present laws for assessing the property of all public service corporations should be so changed as to compel the assessment of those properties at their salable value as going concerns and to prevent their evasion of just taxation.

"3. To prevent evasion of state taxes by discriminating valuations, a separation of the sources of state and local revenues should be made. We, therefore, heartily endorse the constitutional amendment now pending before the people and to be voted on at the coming election, which permits classification of property for taxation.

"Section 4. We favor the constitutional amendment for single liability of stockholders and oppose those for the veto power and representation of all counties and classification of cities.

"5. All public service corporations should be required by law to make sworn public reports, and the power of visitation and examination over such corporations should be given to the proper auditing officers to the end that the true value of the privileges held by such corporations may be made plain to the people.

"6. Denouncing the acceptance of free passes and other favors from railroads by public officers or employees, and declaring that this should be adequate ground for their removal, we pledge the Democratic party of Ohio to the enactment of laws giving the people of the state the benefit of a uniform rate of railroad fare at 2c per mile.

"7. The denial of the right of peaceable persuasion in times of labor disturbances is a denial of the right of free speech. Government by injunction, if persisted in, will wreck the liberties of the people.

"8. We favor absolute home rule for counties, cities and villages, with reference to their local affairs; and demand that the merit system of civil service in cities, as now in use in Fire and Police Departments, be strengthened and perfected, and be extended to other municipal water and lighting plants already authorized by law, and to street car and other public service plants as they may hereafter be established under municipal ownership and operation.

"9. The municipal code should be amended as to require that all ordinances granting renewing, extending or modifying franchises, shall be inoperative until confirmed by a majority vote of the people of the municipality, and to prohibit perpetual franchises altogether. We pledge ourselves also to the principle of the initiative and referendum in all other matters of legislation. In doing this we emphasize our faith in the integrity of the people and our belief that they should be permitted to retain in their own hands as much of their sovereign power as is compatible with the convenient transaction of public business.

"10. Whereas railroad and mining corporations have gone into the business of insuring against accidents and death among their employees, fixing the rates of insurance arbitrarily and compelling employees, as a condition of employment, not only to invest in such insurance, but also to waive all claims for injury sustained in the course of their employment, both in their own behalf and of their dependents; and whereas such contracts of waiver are opposed to public policy; therefore, we favor the enactment of laws making null and void all contracts by employees of railroads and mining corporations and of other employees, for the waiver and forfeiture of claims for injuries sustained in such employment.

"11. Among the most prominent subjects to come before the Legislature at its next session is a proposal to enact a general law for the regulation of the public school system of the state. We hereby pledge every Democrat who may be elected to the Legislature to work for the enactment of a school law that shall preserve the principle of home rule in school matters and safeguard the children of the state and their parents from the frauds and extortions of hook trusts. In this we invite the co-operation of every citizen who believes in the purity of that great American institution—the public school.

"12. Under the long continued rule of the Republican organization in state scandalous corruption has grown up in the administration of county affairs by reason of the so-called fee system. We pledge the untiring opposition of the Democratic party to this system. We charge that the action of the Republican Legislature in passing an invalid law purporting to be aimed at this evil, was merely a subterfuge, and that the law was never intended to correct the evils and restore a reasonable and economical salary system. We call upon the Governor and Auditor of State, as well as the Prosecuting Attorney, in each county to proceed at once to investigate the widespread abuse of the fee system and to visit strict justice upon guilty officials.

"13. Until United States Senators are required by amendment of the Federal Constitution to be elected by popular vote, nominations of candidates for United States Senator should be made by state conventions.

"Upon these principles of home rule and just taxation, and to accomplishment of these purposes in municipal and state affairs, we invite the co-operation of all citizens of Ohio, regardless of their party affiliations or personal views on national questions, hereby solemnly pledging our candidates to the faithful observance of this platform of principles and declaration of purposes, both in letter and in spirit.

"Resolved, That we approve of the improvement of the Ohio River so that it shall continue navigable for boats of the heaviest draught during the entire open season and of the improvement and maintenance and preservation of the canals of the state.

"The Democrats of Ohio, in convention assembled, send cordial greetings to William Jennings Bryan, the great leader of the party in two national campaigns, and always an answering and eloquent advocate of true Democracy; and we extend to him a graceful welcome in his proposed visit to Ohio on August 31 and September 1 and 2 in the interest of those principles for the triumph of which he has so gallantly led the fight."

MR. FREDERICK'S QUICK TRIP AROUND WORLD IN 54 DAYS

He Would Have Arrived Earlier But For Seven Days on a Slow Boat Having Just Missed Fast One—Says Japan is Ready to Fight Now.

New York, Aug. 27.—Henry Frederick, who left New York City on July 2, on the steamer Deutschland, for a tour around the world with the hope of breaking the record for the shortest time consumed in circling the globe last night returned to New York on the New York Central railroad.

Mr. Frederick had been successful in his endeavor, having made the circuit in 54 days, 7 hours and 20 minutes. In speaking of his trip he said: "My object in making the trip was to see the quickest time a man could go around the world comfortably. The train ride from Paris to Dalny, China consumed 18 days. Two days were spent crossing the Yellow sea and two more by rail across Japan. At Yokohama I missed my steamer by ten hours and lost seven days, as I was compelled to take a slow boat two days later, which spent sixteen days on the Pacific. I landed at Victoria and crossed the continent in a little over four days. This, with the Deutschland's fast time of six days across the Atlantic, made my record of 54 days."

Mr. Frederick said that he found the line of the Trans-Siberian railroad swarming with Russian troops, who were being poured into Manchuria at the rate of 3,000 a day. At port Arthur were concentrated 35 warships of all classes. In Japan he found the feeling for war with Russia running very high and active preparations being made for hostilities.

THE RAILWAYS

B. & O. HAS A BIG ENGINE FOR
C. O. DIVISION.

Pennsylvania Improvements at Enormous Cost—A Budget of Day's Local Railway News.

The B. & O. has just received from the Allegheny works of the American Locomotive company another of the big 2300 class engines for service on the Central Ohio division.

Seven more of the same class of engines are being built for the company. One of these big locomotives, with tender, is 50 feet in length and weighs 250,000 pounds.

From the rails to the roof of the cab is nearly 20 feet and to the top of the boiler is about 15 inches less. The driving wheels are four feet in diameter and six in number. These engines will pull from 75 to 100 cars and cost $17,500 each.

Pennsy's Improvements.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 27.—The Pennsylvania railroad company, to make room for its yards to be built at Shire Oaks has just purchased more than $1,000,000 worth of property, between Courtney and Sunny Side and a large portion of the town of Shire Oaks has been bought by the company. The grading has about been completed for the classification yards of the Pennsylvania. Thirty-eight tracks are to be laid each of which will be considerably more than a mile in length. All the coal trains from the upper Monongahela Valley, the new Klondike coke region and the coal districts of Fayette county as far east as Uniontown will be hauled to Shire Oaks and made up for points west on the Ft. Wayne and Pan Handle, and also for eastern points on the Pennsylvania. Nearly a thousand men will be given employment in the yards to start with, and this number will be increased later.

For the entrenchment of expenses the Pan Handle shops at Columbus will close down Saturdays for the present. Most of the employees will only work 45 hours a week, others 50 hours, while a few in order to have the shops in running order, will continue to work 84 hours a week.

Pan Handle No. 20 third section, had 15 empty coaches from Columbus to Pittsburg, which belonged to the Smoky City end of the system, and were used on the division west of Columbus for excursions.

The B. & O. received several loads of new ties Wednesday.

Firemen's Outing.

Taylor Lodge, No. 175, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, held its annual outing on Wednesday at Buckeye Lake. At a late hour the picnickers returned home on the Buckeye Lake car, somewhat tired, though all had enjoyed a most delightful day.

THE TICKET

vote for me. (Cries of "Good!" and "Right you are!")

We have in this campaign three important questions. We have three questions, my friends, on which I think this campaign will turn, three main questions to present to the people of Ohio. We have the question of home rule, the question of an equitable system of taxation, and the question of breaking up an unholy alliance between the managers of the Republican party and the owners of privileges in the state of Ohio. (Great applause.)

Now, think of our position! Can you find a man who will go on the stump or a newspaper which will deny the principle of home rule municipal government, local self government? I have listened and I have looked and watched, and I can't find anybody who publicly opposes home rule. We stand today for that question thus universally conceded right.

The same thing is true of equitable taxation. You may find volumes written. Parties are talking and forming platforms and having conventions, and they are writing editorials, but not one, my friends, not one can you find that denies that the best thing we can do in a state of this kind is to correct the evil abuses in taxation, and favor a system of equitable taxation. So that of our propositions, two of them stand unaffected.

Do you wonder that they want to talk about national issues? We never have to doubt the truth of the propositions we stand for. Do you wonder that they want to call your attention to questions a long way out of this state, rather than discuss the questions of home rule and just taxation, for to discuss them is to admit the truth of them; to admit the truth means to admit defeat to start on.

My friends, you will find people who deny that that exists, but our hope of success, our hope for the future, not only of the Democratic party, not only of the government of the state of Ohio, but our hope in American institutions rests on this fact: that the people, when they do see the truth of a great combination of that kind and that it is to their detriment, will rise, and can be counted on rising, and by their votes, to end that iniquitous combination. (Great applause.)

I don't know what will be the result of this election. No man can tell, but I do know that the truth of those three positions can never be affected, that their wisdom will not be questioned, and that the people of this intelligent state of Ohio will vote as one man, for 50 per cent. of the people of this state will hold up their hands to pledge all three of those propositions. (More applause.)

So it comes to you my friends, you in each county, every man on this platform and every man that writes, to simply go out in a simple, plain way, losing the men we must, making converts of those people who believe in the truths of our propositions, who believe that we stand today for progressive Democracy, for dealing with living questions, and not with dead questions.

My friends, I thank you. (Loud and long continued applause and cheers.)

WM. J. BRYAN

Will Come to Ohio Next Week and
Will Speak for Johnson in the Campaign.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 27.—William J. Bryan made no concealment of his pleasure when informed of the work of the Ohio convention in Columbus. When advised that the convention had extended an invitation to him to participate in the campaign in the Buckeye state this fall he said:

"Yes, I will gladly go to Ohio and take the stump. In fact, I had already assured party leaders there that I was willing to help out the cause and had agreed with them to speak at a series of meetings, beginning next week."

"What do you think of the work of the convention?"

"I would very much prefer to review a full account of the proceedings," he replied, "before discussing. I think that the party in Ohio has acted wisely and I believe the wisdom of it will become apparent to the party everywhere in a short time. However, I consider the vigor displayed by the Democracy of Ohio a good sign, and next week, when I go to Ohio, I expect to tell the Democrats there my full views on the subject."

The expressed intention of Bryan to take a part in the Ohio campaign is believed by close friends in Nebraska to point to the announcement of his proposed European tour, which was fixed to begin next month. Bryan has been planning for several years to go to the continent, and the stress of political affairs has led to many postponements of the journey. His friends at home, however, take it that he will yet put off his departure for Europe, remaining here to keep up the campaign within the party for reaffirmation, as opposed to the Eastern organizers. Bryan spoke today at an old settlers' picnic in Lincoln.

MR. BRYAN INTERVIEWED.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 27.—When asked about the Ohio Democratic convention Mr. Bryan said he was much pleased at Johnson's success. He said he could not discuss the endorsement of Mr. Clarke for Senator until he knew more about his views.

PRESIDENT HUNT

Issues a Statement About Denison's New Heating and Lighting Plant--Controversy at Granville Happily Settled--News in College Town.

Dr. Emory W. Hunt, president of Denison university, has issued the following statement regarding the location of a heating and lighting plant for Denison university:

Granville, O., Aug. 27, 1903.

To the Friends of Denison College: So many people in Granville and elsewhere are interested in the matter of our heating and lighting plant, that it seems appropriate to make a statement with reference to it through the press.

None of our buildings are of more practical importance to the work of the university than the central plant for heat and light. As soon as possible all our buildings should be connected with it. We have not forgotten the trouble and peril experienced last winter because of the heating problem. Few institutions of the size of ours are without such a plant.

The building committee is of the opinion that our neighbors have been unnecessarily disturbed about the smoke which would come from such a plant. The best residence sections of our cities are spending money to secure the erection of such plants, on a much larger scale. I myself lived within a few rods of one for five years. It was therefore farthest from the thought of the committee that they were establishing a nuisance in Granville.

However, we are glad to try to make our plans so that none can be nervous about them. We have as much concern as anyone to keep Granville the clean, quiet place it has always been. It is a source of deep satisfaction to me that a plan has been devised by the engineering skill of our architects, Messrs. Richards, McCarthy & Bulford, and the friendly co-operation of our good neighbor, J. Sutphen Jones, Esq., in the exchange of real estate, which will be advantageous, both to the university and the village. The Barry lot was purchased for the reason that the plant must be placed below the hill to save expensive cartage of fuel, if we have to use coal. Mr. Jones generously exchanges the Evans lot for the Barney lot, which gives us room for both the gymnasium and the power plant on the north side of College street. From the power plant a tunnel will take the smoke to the north side of the east dormitory on the hill, where the stack will be located. We hope this will be as pleasing to all our friends as it is to us. A tall brick stack cannot be otherwise than unsightly, from an architectural point of view.

In this connection allow me to express the pleasure I have had in conference with Mr. Jones about this work. After the outline of the changes in our plans had been agreed upon, under date of August 26, he wrote me as follows:

Dr. Emory W. Hunt: Dear Sir--During my talk with you I understood you to say that the university has not sufficient funds at hand to complete the power plant in accordance with your plans and desires. I therefore take pleasure in subscribing to that fund the sum of $1000, which I shall be glad to pay to you at any time requested. Trusting you may meet with success in your efforts to obtain the necessary amount to fully complete all of your plans, I am, Very respectfully yours, J. S. JONES.

Rejoicing with all our neighbors in this happy outcome of what might have been an unpleasant and unprofitable controversy, I am yours, for the peace and beauty of Granville EMORY W. HUNT, Granville Notes. Miss Nellie Keller of Alexandria, has returned home after a pleasant visit with Miss Ada Chrysler.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Winget, son Howard, and Mrs. Bellis of Marysville, are visiting at the home of W. H. Chrysler for a few days.

B. I. Jones, superintendent of the horse department of the Ohio State Fair, left for Columbus today, where he will immediately enter upon his duties, getting ready for the big fair which commences on next Monday. Mr. Jones says that here have been over 200 entries made in the speed class of horses, while over 400 entries have been made in the show department. Dr. Hartman, of Peru, a fame, has entered 190 head of Percherons; Col. George Crawford has a number of fine Percherons on their way from Antwerp, while McLaughlin Bros., of Columbus, have entered 100 head of Percherons and Belgians. Mr. Jones says that the indications are flattering for one of the largest and finest exhibitions ever held in Ohio.

Lewis Belt, a well known farmer, residing several miles east of Granville, while working in a field near his home, sustained a severe sun stroke a day or two ago, from the effects of which he is still suffering.

Ex-County Commissioner B. I. Jones returned from Cincinnati, where he had been judging horses for the Hamilton County Fair, at Oakley Park.

One of the most enjoyable picnics of the season was that held by the members of the Methodist church and Sunday school at Spring Valley, on the old Columbus road. There were about one hundred persons in attendance, and the day was spent in having a good social time, which was seasoned with a splendid basket dinner. A game of ball between the married and single men, resulted in a score of 7 to 7.

Squire Albert T. Sayre had the misfortune to meet with a very serious accident. He was engaged in roofing the barn on Mr. John Deeds' place, a short distance east of town, when he slipped and fell off the roof to the ground a distance of twenty feet. He was rendered unconscious and was carried into the house, where it was found that one of his thighs as well as one of his shoulder blades had been broken, and that he had also been severely injured about the head. Dr. Barnes of this place attended to his injuries and it will be some time before he can be removed to his home.

Wm. McKinney of this place, has sold his property to Mrs. Abner Evans, for a consideration of $1200, and has purchased the Methodist church parsonage property on Pearl street, paying therefor $1700.

Wm. J. Lyon who is well known in Granville, died at his home, 398 Hamilton avenue, Columbus on Wednesday morning, August 26. The deceased was the eldest son of the late William Lyon of Granville. The remains will be brought to Granville Friday morning, and laid to rest in Maple Grove cemetery. The B. L. of E. will conduct the services at 9:30 a. m. at the grave.

Mrs. Burton Case and daughter Helen, and Mrs. Zella Dixon left today for Zanesville and a trip down the river on the Valley Gem.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Said Pasha," a comic opera in two acts was put on at Idlewild Park Wednesday, and will run the rest of the week. This opera has more melody than any of the previous ones, and the comedy is bright and sparkling throughout. The orchestra, under Charles Smith, is doing excellent work and deserves much credit. The white rendition is under the direction of Sid Riley, who puts life and vim into the choruses, and also shows much taste in directing the other musical numbers.

"Said Pasha," deserves full houses the rest of the week.

HOT STUFF IS THE "EMPEROR OF SAHARA"

Jacques Lebaudy, Eccentric Frenchman, and His Handful of Sailors, Land in Africa and Establish a Capital.

Paris, Aug. 27--The wildest yarns of travel spun by such writers as Jules Verne and Mayne-Ried, have never surpassed and have rarely equalled the adventures of Jacques Lebaudy, the so-called emperor of Sahara, who is at the present moment according to his own statements, founding a great empire, who is, according to official declarations, merely making a fool of himself, and who is, if the indignant populace of France may be believed, no better than a pirate, press-gang captain, or anything else desperate and despicable.

Jacques' mother is worth between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000, money made by her deceased husband in a sugar factory. Her eldest son, Max, known as "Little Sugarbarrel" caused a sensation 10 years ago and incidentally widely advertised his business, by leaving his fortune to a disreputable person.

The subsequent lawsuit was in everybody's mouth.

The advertising, however, languished until Jacques grew up. Jacques wanted to be original, so he bought a yacht, which he called Frasnquita, or "The Loafer." Then he shipped a crew of boys not older than 10 and took them on a cruise off the coast of France, showing them a good time. But the youngsters were not sensation-al enough so he sent them home.

Then he hired a crew of men, their contract allowing him to land them anywhere should they offend him. Once he tried to land a sailor on an island out at sea, but the others would not allow it.

About this time Jacques bethought himself of a great scheme. He would sail secretly to the west coast of Africa, found an empire and call himself Emperor of the Sahara. With much mystery he advertised for men and as he offered good wages he soon had plenty of men.

The sailors went by ordinary passenger steamer to Las Palmas, in the Canary Islands where Frasnquita was waiting with Lebaudy. There the suspicions of the sailors were first aroused, for they noticed that the yacht was provided with three small cannon and a liberal supply of Winchester rifles, revolvers and ammunition. But they had to all appearances been regularly engaged and felt bound to Lebaudy.

A few hours after sailing Lebaudy assembled half a dozen of the crew and proceeded to catechise them as to their knowledge of modern history. He informed them that the French ministry was composed of scamps and Free Masons. His only approval was given to the Jockey Club, which he said was composed of intelligent men, who ought to govern France. He also entered into a disquisition on the ancient history of France, declaring that John the Good was one of France's most glorious kings.

The real point for which he was making was Cape Juby, on the west coast of Africa, and on arriving there he saluted the Moorish fort with a salvo of 21 guns. Unfortunately, the natives did not understand that this was a mark of respect, but took it for an aggression and fled into the bush in all haste.

It was six miles from this point that Lebaudy landed his first party, consisting of five men, whom he left in possession while he returned to Las Palmas for provisions and more men, he said. When he got back to the landing place, the men had disappeared and no trace of the encampment remained; but through a native he received a letter from one of the men saying that they had been captured by Moorish marauders and were being held for ransom.

In no way disturbed, Lebaudy got his first officer, or, as he styles him, his aide-de-camp Baussy, to write to the French authorities in the name of the emperor of Sahara, to advise them of these facts, and then ordered another party of 15 men to land on the ruins of his encampment. The men refused, he raved about mutiny, threatened to maroon them on a desert island, and just as he had wanted to leave another sailor on a buoy, but he could not shake the men, whom he finally sent back to France. Without them most of the history of Jacques I, emperor of the Sahara, would still be a mystery, to the world, for it is from the facts related by them to their families and friends in Brittany after their return, that the most complete account of the expedition has been compiled.

All that is known about the further proceedings of Lebaudy is that he is now personally in possession of his capital, as he terms it, of Troja, the spot where he first landed the men. This, he says, he will make the terminus for all caravans coming from the interior, and all products, such as gum, india rubber and ivory, will pass here instead of going to the coast via Senegal, as formerly. He has made elaborate plans for the construction of a direct route from Timbuctoo, for a wharf 600 yards long with two jetties projecting into the sea, for a two-storied fortress and a lighthouse 175 feet high.

There is just now only one thorn in the side of Emperor Jacques. The European rulers have not yet recognized him as an equal. But he is confident that the day will come when he will be their superior, when the center of the world's power has been transferred from Europe to the Sahara. And this is a balm to the wound of Emperor Sugar Bowl.

FOOLISH COUPLE

Found Lying in Bed Perforated With Bullet Holes--Both Will Die.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 27--Clasped in each other's arms earnestly praying for death that refused to come, each with gaping bullet wounds in the breast, Ohsers Latimore, aged 25 years and Ellen Ringie, aged 18, lay on a bed in a little house at Dear Trace, Hay's Station, from 9 o'clock last night until this morning, when they were discovered. The girls will probably die. Latimore cannot recover. The young couple are classed among the well-to-do Hungarian residents of Homestead and would long since have been wedded but for parental objection. A note found pinned on the young woman's dress explained since they could not live apart, they had resolved to die together. In the breast of the girl are three bullet wounds, while two holes are in Latimore's breast near his heart. The shots had been heard by neighbors, but no attention was paid to them.

BABY'S VOICE

Is the joy of the household, for without it no happiness can be complete. How sweet the picture of mother and babe, angels smile at and commend the thoughts and aspirations of the mother bending over the cradle. The ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so full of danger and suffering that she looks forward to the hour when she shall feel the exquisite thrill of motherhood with indescribable dread and fear. Every woman should know that the danger, pain and horror of child-birth can be entirely avoided by the use of MOTHER'S FRIEND, a scientific liniment for external use only, which toughens and renders pliable all the parts, and assists nature in its sublime work. # MOTHER'S FRIEND

Penniless Nobleman Weds Stanch Sweetheart.

Baron de la Purcelline, of Budapest, Hungary, unblest with ready cash but rich in dreams of immense estates he will some day inherit, fell in love with beautiful Teresa Lukacs a New York girl. Her parents knew the title was genuine and were willing to let their daughter become Baroness Purcelline, when all at once the baron was cast into a New York police station cell, charged with grand larceny, by a boarding house keeper, who accused him of stealing articles and pawning them.

While awaiting trial the baron was visited daily by his fiance, who cheered him up and supplied him with decent food. She appeared in court with him and he was discharged for want of prosecution. Immediately afterward the couple were married and have started housekeeping. Baroness de la Purcelline declares she does not care if her husband is poor. She loves him, not his title or lands, and would live in a back room contented if he were only there.

PROFESSOR SEES NO SIN IN PLAYING MARBLES

SOME OF THE GAMES PROF. STARR APPROVES.

An Advocate telegram from Chicago the other day said that Prof. Starr of the Chicago university, told the boys that there was no harm in playing marbles 'for keeps.'

"Playing marbles 'for keeps' is not gambling," said Dr. Starr to his class, "it is a game of skill. There is little of the element of chance in the game. It is just as legitimate for the boys to play marbles 'for keeps' as it is for the teacher to offer prizes for the best compositions. For my part, I am opposed to the offering of prizes in school."

Six kinds of games, he says, are legitimate:

1. Games in imitation of adult life such as playing house.
2. Games in imitation of past generation such as playing Indian with bows and arrows.
3. Simple physical exercises.
4. Games of competition, such as football.
5. Mental games, such as chess.
6. Games of skill, such as playing marbles 'for keeps.'

Prof. Starr did not express himself concerning games of chance.

First Urbana Game Friday.

The first game between Urbana and Idlewild will be played at the park Friday, and will be followed by games on Saturday and Sunday between the same teams.

These games are the first of a series of five to determine the relative merits of the teams representing Newark and Urbana. The last time the clubs met the games resulted in an even break, each team winning one game, but this time one or the other of the two teams will win two out of three. Most of the people who saw the two teams play at the time of Urbana's last visit, are confident that the Idlewild team plays the best ball, but Murphy's players are a scrappy lot who contest every inch of ground and will make the locals strain every nerve to take two out of three games.

The Idlewild team will be strengthened by the addition of a new catcher and they are going into the series confident of winning the series.

"Lefty" Snyder will pitch either Friday or Saturday, and will then be given a rest until the Pittsburgh game on next Tuesday.

Tomorrow Afternoon.

Two lively games of baseball will be the attraction at the Y. M. C. A. Athletic field tomorrow afternoon. The Columbus Stars who were prevented from playing their game last Wednesday by the rain, will cross bats with the Y. M. C. A. team tomorrow afternoon, at two o'clock. This will be a lively contest as the home team has been practicing hard this week under Captain Perry, and the Stars have been playing a good game all this season. At 4:00 o'clock the insurance men will play the druggists. Several old time ball players will be in the line up of both teams, and some surprises may be looked for. Admission twenty-five cents, ladies free. Following is the line up for the druggists:

Dr. Evans, catcher; Kinsey, pitcher; Woodard, 1st base; Johnson, 2nd base; Collins, 3rd base; Bricker s. s.; Wiles, left; Knowlton, center; Smith, right.

The drug stores will be closed tomorrow from 2 to 6 p. m.

Champion Pittsburg Next Tuesday.

"Hans" Wagner, the great Pittsburg player, who will be seen at short stop for the Pirates when they line up against Idlewild next Tuesday, is beyond a question the greatest player in the National League. His only rival is acknowledged to be Lajoie the big Frenchman who is captain and second baseman of the Cleveland team. In fact many believe Wagner is the greater player of the two, but a comparison cannot be made as they play in different organizations.

Wagner, for a big man, is lightning fast, covers an immense amount of territory and throws like a catapult. It makes no difference to Hans where they come, he gets them, and his playing is generally a feature of the Pittsburg game.

His batting is terrific and his base-running daring and successful. The mighty Wagner will be seen with the

PRETTY EAGLE

INDIAN DOCTOR WHO WILL BE RE-MEMBERED HERE.

Died Recently in Kentucky and Was Buried in Potters' Field—White Wife a Mourner.

A letter has been received in Mansfield telling of the death of Dr. Pretty Eagle, an Indian doctor, who came to quite a stir in Mansfield and Newark some time ago. A newspaper has also been received giving an account of the death of Pretty Eagle down in old Kentucky, near Owensboro. His death occurred some days ago and the account stated that he was buried in the potter's field and that the chief mourner was Pretty Eagle's pale-face wife. It will be recalled that Pretty Eagle had a great propensity for pale face wives and altogether was a very gay bird.

It will be recalled that he induced a couple of young girls from Mt. Vernon to accompany him to Mt. Vernon promising that he would make actresses of them and give them star parts in his medicine show. He was considerably in the public eye in Newark, and in other places in the state, especially at Washington C. H., where he figured in a sensational affair.

Pretty Eagle claimed to be a graduate of the Carlisle, Pa., government school and was a very smooth talker.

IT'S IMPOSSIBLE

To Disprove Facts.—It is Decidedly Easy to Verify Newark Opinion.

Nothing by way of introduction could be added to the experience and opinions given below, which could increase their value. Newark people can be safely left to draw their own conclusions based on such convincing evidence as this citizen offers. What is there lacking in evidence like this to satisfy a dyed-in-the-wool doubting Thomas?

Mr. F. Lisey of Lisey & Fink commission merchants, says:—"I was distressed and annoyed by a pain in my back just across the kidneys. It was rendered more acute every time I was called on to stoop or lift anything. Treatment at different times failed to afford me relief and at last I stopped using medicine and went and got a package of Doan's Kidney Pills at Crayton's drug store. Their use proved effectual and my back has remained sound ever since I took the treatment. I have as a natural result no hesitancy in allowing my name to be used in recommending them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

TESTIMONY FROM A LEADING DRUGGIST

The following testimony speaks for itself. It is a matter of humanity to tell everybody with a skin disease about this medicament.

Astonishingly quick and complete cures of all varieties of skin diseases by D. D. D. have been fully verified in many cases out of every ten that have come under my observation. In every case it did its work in 3 to 6 weeks time. It is to my knowledge the most wonderful curative agent in all Materia Medica for diseases of the skin. Its results are marvelous; some cases of years' standing were cleared away in a few days almost before my eyes.

I give this public acknowledgement in response to a request from the D. D. D. Company as to my honest opinion of this medicament. I have no hesitancy in expressing myself positively concerning it, as its efficacy has been proven to me beyond the possibility of doubt.

F. D. HALL, Newark

D. D. D. is now used by every family physician who has investigated it. It is used by the greatest skin specialists in the country. It is used in the Cook County Hospital, Chicago. It will clear away any parasitic break in the skin in from 3 to 60 days time. It is a medical triumph. In Eczema, Salt Rheum, Barber's Itch, Itching Piles and all skin affections, in the inviolable success this local treatment proves it is a skin parasitic that causes the trouble and that it is not the blood that is to blame.

D. D. D. clears it all away—absolutely and quickly, too.

4 PER CENT INTEREST PAID ON ALL SAVINGS ACCOUNTS.

This is the Way the Plan Works.

We will loan one of these Private Savings Banks to anyone who will start an account with One Dollar or more. Remember: The bank is absolutely free to all and you have the use of it as long as you may have an account with our institution. In having one of these private home safes, you have a branch of our bank in your home, and it being near you, you would deposit small amounts which you would not bring to the parent bank. It is a fireproof box with a slot in the top large enough to admit any size coin or paper money and we hold the key. Whenever you return this bank, tomorrow or any other time, you can have your dollar back. There is no chance to lose, but a great deal to gain. Your signature is required on a card which is filed away to identify you when you wish to draw your account. You can bring the bank to us at any time and we will open it in your presence, enter its contents to your credit on your pass book, return the safe to you locked, and you begin over again.

There are few people who know the power of small, steady savings, aided by 4 per cent. interest, nor will you know, until you have tried it. There are over 4,000,000 of these banks in use in all parts of the United States and have been the means of starting many fortunes. A home is not complete without one and it costs you nothing. Deposit a dollar for each of your children and teach them to save. Don't put it off but start now. Call at the LICKING COUNTY BANK and get one or send a postal card and our representative will call on you.

Savings Department of the Bank open every week day from 8:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. Every Saturday Evening From 6 to 8 O'clock.
